THE NEW SUGAR ORDER. WHAT A SUGAR PLANTER THINKS OF IT-NO ARTI-FICIALLY COLORED SUGARS COMING TO THIS

Mr. Sargent, a sugar planter in Cuba, who has made the manufacture of sugar a study for forty years past, arrived in this city yesterday from Havana. He claims that if the recent order relating to a new tariff on sugar is carried into effect it will prove disastrous to the sugar trade between this country and Cuba and also stop the purchase of country and Cuba and also stop the purchase of large amounts of centrifogal machinery and vacuum pans which have been ordered from here by Cuban planters. He said that he saw Messrs. Chamberlain and Abbett, of the Treasury Department, when in Havana and Cardenas about three months ago, and that while they went there for the purpose of aiding Secretary Sherman to make an equitable duty on sugars, he found that they had obtained erroneous impressions as to the coloring of sugars by chemical means. "The fact is" said Mr. Sargent, "that there is no artificial coloring of sugars by chemical means. "The fact is" said Mr. Sargent, "that there is no artificial coloring of sugar in Cuba, nor do I believe that any artificially colored sugars come to this market now. The original importations of Demerara sugars were artificially colored, but the seizure of several cargoes drove the trade from this market, and it now goes to England, where no duty is levied. Since January 1 only eight eargoes of Demerara sugar—consisting of 1,631 hogsheads and 1,988 barrels—have arrived at this market, which is no more than two ordinary cargoes from Cuba. The Demerara sugar trade was formerly an important one to this country, amounting to about 150,000 hogsheads annually."

Mr. Sargent further said that npon the seizure of the cargo of centrifugal sugar, and many orders for machinery were countermanded.

THE DAVENPORT INVESTIGATION. TESTIMONY OF DISTRICT-ATTORNEY STEWART I WOODFORD.

Davenpert, United States Commissioner and Chief Supervisor of Elections, was centinued yesterday before United States Commissioner Lyman, Mr. E. Ellery Anderson appeared on behalf of the complainants and Mr. Davesport conducted his own case.

The first witness examined was W. R. Spooner. He was a Special Deputy-Marshal during registration and election, and his duty was to examine the papers of all who registered in the XXIst Assembly District. He instructed the supervisors as to what papers they should retain and what were to be returned to the owners. District-Atterney Woodford was called and was examined by Mr. Anderson. He recollected that a examined by Mr. Anderson. He recollected that a number of persons were arrested in the Spring and Summer of 1878 on proceedings which were instituted by Commissioner Davennort for alleged violations of the Naturalization laws. During the month of June, between 200 and 300 of the persons arrested were examined before Commissioner Davenport, and he was frequently in and out of the room during the examination. From the cases he heard and from the reports made to him by his assistant, Mr. Fiero, he became satisfied that the men had been deceived in regard to their papers. While he thought that most of them held fraudulent papers he was satisfied that they had been deceived as to their character. They intended no violation of the law, and, under the circumstances, he thought it would be cruel to proceed against them. He therefore advised their discharge. He then gave an account of the proceedings before Mr. Davenport. The first learned the day after election that Stephen Mosher had sworn to 3,000 complaints. About last October Mr. Davenport mentioned to the witness that many persons had fraudulently registered for the election of 1878. After the matter had been explained the District-Attorney said that there was not sufficient force in his office to handle the matter, and he told Mr. Davenport that he would trust to his discretion to do what he should think right, and that what he did do in that direction would be supported by the District-Attorney. "In other words," said Mr. Woodford, "so far as I could, I vested the Commissioner with all the discretionary power that lay in the District-Attorney's office to enforce the Naturalization laws." At that time Mr. Davenport showed the witness a little book in which was entered a great number of names of men about whom it was suggested that they had registered illegally. The book contained a complation of facts about each person as to ace, date of naturalization, etc. It also contained the names of certain men suspected of "colonization," and he remembered that one place, number of persons were arrested in the Spring and

The cross-examination of the witness was deferred. The investigation will be continued on August 1 at 2 p. m.

A NEW OIL PIPE-LINE TO BUFFALO. Rumors were current yesterday that a new oil pipe-line was to be established from the Bradford Oil District to Buffalo, but no information in relation to it could be obtained in this city. Refiners here do not look upon the project with any favor, and say that the only outlet to the seaboard could be by the Albany and Troy and the New-York Central Railroad to Boston, or by canal boats from Buffalo to New-York. It is claimed that the line will cost about $200,000 and that seven-eighths of the right of way have been secured. If the entire right of way can be obtained without opposition the new line promises to be completed by November. It is intended to lay a pipe of larger diameter than any now in use, to relieve the oil regions of their surplus stock, much of which, it is said, now goes to waste because of want of facilities for transportation. It is thought by refiners here that the capital has been subscribed by the producers and that the movement is entirely a speculative one. Some apprehension exists among the owners of the other pipe lines, and it is claimed that the new project will result in further reducing rates of transportation of petroleum. The nominal rate for bringing oil from the oil regions to the semboard is 30 cents a barrel, from which it is claimed there must be a rebate as oil can be furnished readily at an advance upon the cost of from 20 to 25 cents a barrel. O'Rourke, warden of Bellevne Hospital, complaining of dumping-places for manure on East Twenty-third and Twenty-ninth-sts. Sanitary Superintendent Day received a report from Dr. A. Lanfard, the veterinary surgeon, regarding a herse owned by a Mr. Terry, of No. 4 fivington-st. The horse was found suffering from the glanders, and was removed to the offal dock, where its carcaes was buried. The animal had been purchased by Mr. Terry three weeks ago from a dealer who offered it at a low price. Dr. Liantard advised that the stables of the doaler be inspected, and also that the Board of Health cause monthly inspections of all the street railway stables to be made by veterinary surgeons. He stated that the glanders was becoming somewhat prevalent in the city, and he gave his opinion that measures should be taken to prevent the possible loss of human life through contact with diseased horses.

SALE OF A LONG ISLAND RAILROAD. The Southern Railroad of Long Island was sold June 10 under foreclosure of the second mortgage of $1,000,000 with accrued interest, which made the lien over $1,500,000, and was bid in by J. Wallace, one of the trustees, for the second mortgage bondholders. This sale did not include the branch lines of the road. Yesterday there was another suction sale of the road in Jamaica, L. I., which was made on the amount of a first mortgage of $500,000, with interest from March, 1877. This mortgage was made in 1874 by John D. Jones and William Nicoll, as trustees, after the read had passed through bankraptey and was sold under the foreclosure of the first mortgage, for which Henry Wyckoff and Elbert Floyd-Jones were trustees. The purchaser yesterday was Egisto P. Fabbri, of the firm of Drexel, Mergan & Co., the price being $125,000. This purchase, it is understood, is in the interest of the bolders of the two issues of the bonds, under the pooling system which was agreed. which was made on the amount of a first mortgage bonds, under the pooling system which was agr upon last Winter, it is said.

THOMAS H. LYONS.

The inquiry into the cause of the death of the young man Thomas H. Lyons, a farm laborer in the employ of Daniel W. Sherry, of Stony Brook, L. I., who was found dying on the barn floor July 15, was continued yesterday before Justice Rogers. District-Attorney Petty examined the witnesses. Since the last session of the Coroner's jury the hat and shoes worn by Lyons when he was last seen have been given to the District-Attorney. The hat, a common straw one, plainly shows the break in the side corresponding to the wound in the head. The witnesses who first saw the body on the barn floor all agree in saving that his hat lay near him on the floor, which would hardly have been the case had he fallen from the hay mow, for it fitted him tightly. John Jones, the colored boy who slept in the barn and found Lyons on the floor insensible, is believed to have a story yet to tell. Upon several occasions he has said to different persons that if he were not let alone he would tell all he knew about were not let alone he would tell all he knew about the death of Lyons.

A colored man, Samuel Spencer, of Smithtown Branch, on the morning of the day following the finding of Lyons's body, when told of the death of the young man, said, without knowing the circumstances, that Lyons was murdered, and when asked why he thought so, replied: "I met Lyons on the road not a week ago, and he asked me if I could not get him a place to work; for he said if he staid at Mr. Sherry's he would be missing some day." A number of those present at the inquest yesterday were anxious that a colored man named Morris Lawrence should be found. Lawrence was an intimate friend of the colored boy Jones, Four years ago he was sentenced to the State Prison for three years for robbing his employer, Judgo Lawrence Smith, of Smithtown, and was not seen in the vicinity until Saturday night, the 15th of June, when he was in Stony Brook. On the morning when the body was found he was met on the road going to Smithtown Branch.

At the inquest to-day Walter B. Sherry testified that his mother came to him on Sunday morning and told him that Tommy had been found in the barn hurt. He assisted in carrying the boy up stairs. He did not hear his father seed Lyons, nor did he hear any disturbance outside the house on the night of June 15. He had no reason to thick that his father had an alteration with Lyons. The witness heard his father say that he thought Lyons might have caught his shee under the beam and have failen backward, because the upper of the right shoe was torn from the sole three-quarters of an Inch or more, so that the pegs could be plainly seen.

RAILWAY RATES FOR ACTORS.

A few persons interested in the theatrical business met at the Westminster Hotel on Monday and appointed J. H. Havery and Robert Miles a committee to confer with railway managers with refer ence to securing a continuance of the reductions which have always been allowed to travelling theatrical companies, and which it was promised some time ago, might not be longer granted. C. Randolph Gardner, the dramatic agent, said yesterday afternoon: "The meeting will doubtless come to nothing because it was not composed of representative men, and I feel sure that neither Mr. Havery, who is in Chicago, nor Mr. Miles, who is in Cincinnati, were consulted with regard to the using of their names. And I don't think there was any cause for holding such a meeting. Several weeks ago the rumor gained credence that there had been a meeting of passenger agents, and that at the meeting it was decided to discontinue the usual reductions to travelling dramatic companies. A meeting of theatrical managers was then held and adjourned till Monday. In the meantime, however, word was received from Mr. O'Brien, agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Columbus, Ohio, that he had received no instructions to stop granting the usual reduction, and that there was no such intention. The rule has been to charge travelling companies 75 per cent of the usual rates where ten taken advantage of by "dead bears," of which the dramatic profession has its share, who have bought tickets for companies that did not exist, and sold them to ticket trokers, gaining a good profit on the speculation. Sometimes it has happened that the person buving tickets for a company has taken many more than were necessary to get the extra reduction, and sold those which were not wanted to ticket brokers."

Samuel Carpenter, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, said yesterday that the different companies could not change the customary usage of giving a reduction without arriving at such a decision in a meeting of passenger agents. There was no intention of depriving travelling companies of the special advantages toey had always enjoyed. atrical companies, and which it was promised some time ago, might not be longer granted. C. a new corps of Sanitary Inspectors to make a survey of the tenement houses in the city. The inspectors are to visit all the tenements and make careful notes of all the internal arrangements of the buildings, the means of ventilation, number of persons living in the various rooms, and the manner in which the sanitary regulations are observed. In many cases they will furnish diagrams of the buildings. The information thus obtained will be used by the Commissioners in enforcing the provisions of the new Tenement House acts. The following are the names of the inspectors appointed; R. A. Johnson, C. E.; G. S. Eastwick, C. E.; T. N. Owen, E. N.; A. H. Daly, M. D.; George W. Grey, C. E.; J. S. Berry, J. F. Rodenburgh, T. The Commissioners made application to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for the transfer of the unexpended balance of health funds, amounting to $12,008 87, with which the sanitary squad of police—provided for by the new Tenement House acts—is to be paid. They also requested the Board of Police to detail for service under the Board of Health a saniable number of policemen whose united monthly pay shall not exceed $2,520. The officers and men thus detailed must be of at least five years' experience on the police force. They are to report to President Chandler, and their duty will be to enforce the provisions of the new Tenement House acts.

which were received with prolonged applause, General Devens responded to calls for a speech, saying he was g'ad to be present and to take part in this testimonial to Mr. Sherman. He felt that when that gentleman made the assertion that he made two years ago, he meant to do what he said. He quoted Mr. Lincoln's remark that the Shermans could be trusted to do what they said they would. He was glad that resumption had come, and believed that its effects could already be seen. Its effects as yet were scarcely felt, but he thought it would promote commerce and agriculture and manu factures in a healthy manner, and as it has not for years past, bringing a reward to every branch of in dustry. We are, he said, on an equal footing with the other peoples of the world. Brief speeches were then made by Mayor Prince, ex-Governor Rice, Henry P. Kidder and others, after which the proceedings were concluded.

This afternoon Secretary Sherman took a drive to various points of interest, and to-night is the guest of Assistant-Treasurer Kennard. To-morrow morning he will leave for Fortland.
